Professional Reference for Dr. Jelena Dimitrijević

To whom it may concern,

I have had the opportunity to collaborate with Dr. Jelena Dimitrijević through the Ambipak Executive Forum, professional discussions, and advisory work related to PPWR, food-contact compliance, and the future of packaging.

What sets Jelena apart is not only her extensive regulatory knowledge, but her ability to connect complex requirements with the operational reality of packaging manufacturers and food companies. She explains demanding topics clearly, asks the right questions, and focuses on what companies actually need to prepare, document, and implement.

I particularly value her openness in exchanging knowledge and her willingness to examine a topic from different perspectives rather than offering simplified answers where evidence is required.

I am pleased to recommend Dr. Jelena Dimitrijević to companies looking for credible, structured, and practical support in packaging regulation, professional training, and strategic compliance.

Sincerely,

Slaven Đurđević
